SCIENCE WINS!
A Splendid Surgical Operation—
Successful Result and Wonderful Recovery.

SURGICAL OPERATION.—The operation of lithotomy (removal of stone from the bladder) one of the most severe and critical operations known to the science of surgery was successfully performed on Tuesday ... on Mr Henry H ... the ... merchant of this city, by Dr David Kennedy. Several friends of the patient witnessed the operation. Mr ... has suffered several years from this difficulty but ... was only a week before the operation that he was made aware of the real cause of his complaint.

RECOVERY.—Mr Henry H ... has recovered from the effects incident to the operation, the closing of the wound being complete on the 18th day. His general health is good—better than it has been for years, while he is perfectly free from all those distressing symptoms so characteristic of the disease with which he suffered. Had this and similar cases used Dr Kennedy's Favorite Remedy in the early stages of the complaint, the formation of stone would have been prevented. Favorite Remedy ... purifies the blood cures Constipation of the Bowels and all those diseases and weaknesses peculiar to Females. This wonderful medicine is now for sale by all our druggists $1 a bottle d&wlm nov6

FELLOWS' SYRUP
Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma.
WERE FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP useless in all other diseases the benefit which it undoubtedly yields in Consumption and other diseases of the Respiratory Organ would vindicate the claim to the title on of every medical practitioner. From the statistics of England and America it is a fair estimate that one tenth of the entire deaths are caused by Consumption alone. If the Syrup is used perseveringly it subdues the tendency to Consumption and in many confirmed cases as in that of the inventor, it has effected a cure.
Indigestion and habitual Costiveness almost always arise from weakness of the nerves and muscles of the stomach and bowels. In such cases Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has proved itself of the greatest service. The evacuations soon become copious and healthy.
To the Syrup will cure PULMONARY CONSUMPTION in the first stage and will give great relief and prolong life in the second and third. It will cure ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, LARYNGITIS and COUGHS. It will cure all diseases originating from want of Muscular Action and Nervous Force.
Public Speakers and Singers,
Will find this Syrup of inestimable value. A dose should be taken before speaking or singing. Aphonia or the Loss of Voice, is usually cured by a few doses. We have known cases where a single dose has been effectual.
St JACOB, M D, of John N B, writes: I had occasion to use your Syrup in a case of Aphonia which would not yield to regular treatment. It proved to be all that you claimed for it, having acted with expedition and entire satisfaction.
Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name, no other preparation is a substitute for this, under any circumstances

STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin

George Newbegin of Lewiston, was eighty-one years old Wednesday. He is as lively as a cricket. Mr Newbegin has lived in the time of all the Presidents of the United States his birth occurring a little time before the death of Washington. Mr N is a blacksmith who works in his shop daily and is still able to shoe oxen and horses and do other heavy work

Aroostook

Twenty two starch factories in the county have used about 2 000 000 bushels of potatoes this season

Mr Hutchinson of the firm of Hutchinson & Berry, Hodgdon, whose steam saw mill was burned a few weeks since, is to rebuild the mill

Cumberland

The 150th anniversary of the First Congregational church of Yarmouth will be observed next Sunday at the church, by services appropriate to the occasion. At 10 30 o clock A M a historical sermon will be delivered by the pastor, Rev Dr Torrey, which is expected to be very interesting as well as instructive. At 2 o clock P M the congregation will be addressed by Revs E K Alden and Geo A Putnam former pastors of the church. The evening exercises will commence at 7 o clock and consist of brief remarks by Revs E K Alden Geo A Putnam, I S Perry, Prof Packard and others

At the Upper Gloucester celebration last week twenty five young ladies carried torches

The old Prout's Neck House, in Scarboro so long the home of the Libby family and where so many seaside excursionists have found entertainment through many generations was last week sold by auction to E Seavey for $1075.

The wire factory at Harrison is running to its full capacity and a portion of the works are run part of the night

Franklin

L. I Hodge of Newcastle was caught between two cars on the K and L Railroad recently and very seriously hurt

Hancock

The American says that Mr E E Church of Mariaville accidentally fell in his tan ... Wednesday falling some twelve or fourteen feet striking upon his right side. He sustained a fracture of the neck of the thigh bone and received internal injuries

Kennebec

The hay crop of the Lambard farm at Augusta for this season, is now being pressed at the large barns at the farm. The entire crop was sold at $14 00 per ton in the barn. The pressers believe they will be able to press one hundred tons in ten days. The hay will be shipped to Boston

Mayor Bodwell, of Hallowell, is at work upon his farm near Hutchinson's pond making such improvements in drainage that the fall rains will not endanger his meadow lands by overflow from the pond

We learn that the will of the late Mrs Joanna B Gilman of Waterville has been found and that it gives to Anna H. Gilman the only daughter one fourth of the homestead in Waterville and some personal property and to the three boys, in equal proportion the remainder of her property real and personal. Charles B and Franca Gilman are named as the executors

The schooner Reuben Eastman commenced Monday loading at Lawrence Bros mill South Gardiner with lumber for New York. This will probably be the last cargo of lumber shipped from the Kennebec this season

Knox

The Cobb Lime Company's Cement works at Rockland, are grinding night and day

Schooner Lucy Ames, loading lime for Cobb Lime Co of Rockland, was discovered to be on fire recently. She was cemented up to smother the fire, and is now at railroad wharf, to repair

The recent silver wedding of Mr G Clarendon Dunton and wife of Appleton, was a very pleasant affair. A large company of friends attended and many nice presents were received

The Bodwell Granite Co., at Vinalhaven, are cutting a large quantity of rough stone for an elevator building at New York.

Oxford

Charles Wadsworth, of South Hiram harvested one hundred and fifty bushels of cranberries from his bed near Slab City

Some of the leading business men of Kezar Falls met on the 15th inst, to take into consideration the propriety of building and running a woolen mill, with the capacity for the employment of thirty or forty hands, and in thirty minutes enough was subscribed, within $2 000 to organize a stock company. Doubtless the requisite amount will be raised, and work of building commence at once

At West Paris two section men were recently thrown, one twenty five and the other forty feet, by a locomotive of a fast train, as they were attempting to get their hand car off the track. G W Bryant had both arms broken, and Joshua Ford was badly bruised

Sagadahoc

A fine colt, belonging to Edward F Lincoln, of Bath, got loose in the stable, ate too much grain, and died in a few hours

Waldo.

The vessels hailing from Searsport number 47, divided as follows, fifteen ships, sixteen barks, seven brigs and nine schooners. The aggregate tonnage is over 29,000 tons. Belfast has sixty nine vessels, but in amount of tonnage falls 8,000 tons behind Searsport. Belfast has a large coasting fleet of schooners, while our neighbors are deep water sailors, who in their large ships visit the remotest parts of the earth in search of wealth. Searsport's success lies in its shipping. It is not unusual for a Searsport captain to remain away until he becomes almost a stranger to his own family. After a fortune is amassed he quietly settles down in a large house and enjoys the fruits of his toil. We venture to say that for the number of its inhabitants, Searsport has more wealth and a larger number of sea captains than any town in Maine.—Belfast Journal

Ten milk teams supply the fluid daily to Belfast customers.

The overseers of the poor of Belfast say that during the past eight months there have been fewer demands for charity than for a number of years.

A gang of six workmen from Deering are now in Belfast, cutting and shipping Christmas trees to New York. They are operating on the Patterson hill on the east side. The trees after being cut down are snugly packed in bundles and shipped by rail.

Albert Alonzo Osborne, son of the late Alonzo Osborne and brother of Captain George T, of Belfast is now home after an absence of twenty eight years. In 1852 Mr Osborne went to California in the ship Ocean Spray, where he remained for fifteen years. For the past twelve years he has been engaged in the railroad business at Chicago. Mr Osborne is in ill health, having been stricken with paralysis. He will pass the winter in Belfast.—Mr Ella M Kittredge of Belfast has performed the feat of writing the Lord's prayer twice within the space of a five cent piece. Mr Kelley the teacher has made a careful computation, and says that it is equal to 16 000 words on one side of a postal card

A Belfast merchant who came to his store early one morning recently thought he needed a glass of cider. On going to the cellar a quantity was drawn off but one swallow was sufficient to send the man dancing about the store. In the darkness he had drawn kerosene

Washington

Lumber is rapidly accumulating on the wharves at Calais, caused by a lack of vessels to ship it as fast as it is manufactured

Louis Wherry a colored man died at his place in Baileyville, Tuesday morning rather suddenly

The Dennysville correspondent of the Lewiston Journal writes. The friends of Mr Thos Eastman fear his breath nearing its end. Mr Leander Huckins of Marion had a narrow escape from death while sawing in a shingle mill Wednesday. The saw caught a bolt hurled it through an inch board and against Huckins' breast. The breast bone is started and he is considerably injured but the doctor thinks he will recover—thanks to the intervening board.—The son of Mr William Gardner had his finger cut off in the mill a few days since.—A three-years old son of Mr C A Woodbury fell from a second story window to the ground a distance of over fifteen feet last week. No bones were broken or dislocated. The only apparent ill effect is the result of the general shaking up given the whole system

The flour mill, at Pembroke since putting in new running gear has been running day and night in the past thirty six days two thousand thirty seven bushels of wheat and two thousand five hundred bushels of corn and feed have been ground

THE CELESTIAL BODY

From Rev W H H Murray's Sermon in Boston Sunday Nov 14]

What becomes of our bodies then you may ask? They rot I answer. Jesus took his with him because it was fit unmarred unweakened—braced with all the old strength, brilliant with all the old beauty. What else can God do with perfection than lift it into some heavenly place and so make heaven more heavenly? But our bodies are not fit—have not the old strength. They barely last us 60 years. They have not the old beauty. Behold how they ... beauty, such as it is, fades, and therefore being neither fit as instruments to use or fit as residences for us to live in, why should they be preserved? Why not give them to the grave and rejoice that we can be well quit of them so easily?

What folly to dream of to wish for the resurrection of such bodies as these. God be praised that the chemistry of the earth and sea is strong enough to resolve them back to the pure elements whence God called them and so forever undo the work of sin and finally make embodied impurity and corruptibleness but a dim tradition of the universe. What a horrible hallucination that is which pictures the reassembling of these cast off bodies of the human race millions and myriads in one great concourse to meet a supposed necessity of a mythological theology. Think you the hills of heaven will ever be trampled by such a monstrous a thumb age? If I might borrow a figure of speech from the military vocabulary to express my indignation which labors for expression, I would ask if any sane, enlightened refined person can think that God will order all the embodied results of earthly corruption up before him for a ghastly dress parade? No. No! The drapery of the grave falls mercifully between us and the result of sin's revolting tragedy. Oh grave keep close thy curtain and weave its folds of thickest stuff that when once thy gloomy relief is between us and the horrors behind thee our eyes and ears shall see and hear no more the sights and sounds of human misery!

But if we leave our old bodies here what bodies have we then in the hereafter may be asked.

New bodies I reply. New bodies received as Adam received his from the bounty of God. As Paul says of them speaking of the soul and the soul's body in the hereafter. He giveth it a new body as it pleaseth him. A body no more subject to disease no more tormented with pain no more dominated by death a body not fettered and local but free and universal in the action of its functions moving with the ease of light along the lines of varied acquisition, telescopic in its power. Harmonious in its elements whose appetites are refined whose passions are legitimate and whose desires are holy. A body which shall not hinder but assist the intellect which will not contract but enlarge the soul, untainted by disease unsusceptible to pain, incapable of exhaustion and superior to death!

To such a body shall our spirits come. Death with kindly hand, shall lead us into the vestibule of this magnificent mode of life. We shall stand beneath its upheaved arch, whose only ornament is the majesty of its magnitude—none other being needed—and as our eyes traverse its suspended dome our apprehension will grow equal to its measurement and we shall exclaim "This then, is the temple not built with hands!" When the physical life of these mortal bodies, which to many is but one prolonged spasm of pain is happily over and the transparent hands fold themselves and the white lids droop at last suffering and inconvenience will be ended. The future will give back what the past robbed us of, and we shall find in Christ what we lost in Adam

STATE OF MAINE.

By the Governor.

A PROCLAMATION.

By the advice of the Executive Council, I do hereby appoint

Thursday, the Twenty fifth Day of November, Instant,

As a day of Public Thanksgiving and Praise to our Father in Heaven, for His kind care over the people of this State in the year that is now closing. Living under one common Government that is grand and strong enough to protect every citizen in the full enjoyment of all his rights, it is befitting that we should unite with our fellow country men upon that day, at the invitation of the President of the United States in solemn acknowledgement of the goodness of God, wherewith our State and Nation have been so abundantly blessed. May the hearts of our people be moved to give earnest thanks that peace and plenty, health and prosperity, prevail throughout all our borders, and that the principles of liberty, established by the Fathers who gave us this service, grow stronger as the years of the Republic go by

Given at the Council Chamber at Augusta this fifteenth day of November in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and fifth

DANIEL F DAVIS

By the Governor
S J CHADBOURNE, Secretary of State

"BIRDS OF A FEATHER."

The New York Evening Post, which was controlled in the interest of Tilden in 1876 while pretending to be Republican and which rushed as promptly to the defence of the Gramercy Park corruptionist when his cipher villany was exposed as it now does to defend Abram S. Hewitt's disgraceful, indecent and persistent public efforts to impeach the honesty of 'his friend,' General Garfield and defeat the Republican party by the use of a forged letter will be about as successful in its attempt to check the public applause which has greeted the timely, manly and just rebuke administered by Judge Davis to the conspirators who would have forged and perjured away the sacred rights of the people and grasped control of the Executive power through the agency of foul crime as it was, not many years ago in its efforts to shield from public indignation that munificent patron of subservient newspapers and monumental public robber, WILLIAM M TWEED who was finally brought to justice by the sturdy and inexorable grasp of the same sterling Judge Noah Davis

No amount of wriggling, or squirming or dodging will help Mr Hewitt The 'plain people' of the country are too familiar with the facts, and his sponsorship for and championship of the shameless forgery were too public and too stubbornly continued after its exposure to admit of any sneaking out of responsibility now That the letter had been once published in ordinary type before Mr Hewitt vouched for its genuineness is a pretty slim excuse for the man who had the original laid before him that same day and hastened to give his certificate of its genuineness and cause its publication the next morning in lithographed fac similes, hundreds of thousands of which were contracted for and circulated in all parts of the country by the Committee of which he was executive chairman, while fac-simile plates were also furnished by himself and colleagues to every Democratic paper in the Union

The forgery in its identical form was put forth upon Hewitt's authority he sought every opportunity to bolster it up by public declarations of its genuineness, he did not seek to qualify his endorsement of it even when under oath, and since the whole country has been nauseated by the exposure and confession of the perjury of witnesses forgery of hotel registers, publication of fraudulent affidavits and other sickening rascality with which Mr Hewitt's Committee sought to sustain the forged Chinese letter, he comes before the public with nothing but angry protest against the opinion of the Judge without a word of retraction of all his support of the forgery or so much as a hint of any desire for the punishment of the scoundrels who have plotted and carried out the great crime which has so shocked the moral sense of the Nation

We doubt whether Judge Davis performed a greater or more lasting public service even when he throttled the chief of the Tammany Ring than he has in showing that neither the wealth social standing hypocritical pretension to a 'high sense of honor' or the toadying of 'reform' newspapers can shield from just and scathing denunciation a man who voluntarily eagerly malignantly and persistently furnished his endorsement to forgery, lent wings to slander and put himself at the head of the most infamous gang of political outlaws who ever sought to control a national election by fraud

BULLDOZING IN PENOBSCOT

A correspondent gives us an instance of bulldozing, which can have its parallel only in the benighted South An aged pensioner a soldier of the war of 1812 resides with his son in a town in Penobscot county On election day (November) the old gentleman said in the hearing of many that he had voted the Republican ticket ever since the election of Grant, until he came into that town to reside. He seemed on election day to have a strong desire to vote directly for Hancock, and on looking over his ticket he found it headed by a prominent Greenbacker He was very emphatic in declaring that he would not vote for him, and wished to have the name erased. But the son objected to any one's cutting out or erasing the name. The poor old man cut the objectionable name out himself, and put his hand towards the ballot box to deposit his vote, when the son said— 'If you put that cut ballot into the ballot box, you can't eat your bread and butter from my table, by G—d'" The old man, with fear and trembling, withdrew his hand, took a full ballot, and voted as the unworthy, bullying son dictated.

Several of our exchanges have made mistakes concerning the vote in Somerset county, in November. The vote in that county in November was Republican, 4096, while the total vote of the opposition was but 3954, of which 441 were straight Weaver votes, making a Republican majority over all of 144 In September the Republicans were in a minority of 185 making a gain over September of just 329 votes —a combination of figures that we have seen before somewhere

Here is an instance where our Democratic friends went into a graveyard for voters On election day in East Machias, as a funeral procession was returning from the cemetery it was stopped by a Democratic deacon who proposed to the three Democratic sons of the deceased that when the procession arrived at the place of voting it halt and they go to the polls and vote. The proposition was rejected

C R Cummings, a railway man of Chicago, is said to have won $50,000 on the election, and has given his sister, Mrs. Halley, of Pekin, Ill, a check for half the amount.

GEORGIA'S NEW SENATOR.

Ex Gov Joseph E. Brown, who has just been elected United States Senator from Georgia, causes joy among the Republicans in that State, because they consider it a defeat of Bourbonism and proscription in Georgia. The negroes had a torchlight procession in honor of Brown's election, and the universal verdict of the colored race all over the State approves his election. Brown was the first man of prominence in Georgia to advocate the acceptance of reconstruction. In the course of a speech before the Legislature on the night before his election, Senator Brown said

I am in favor of burying old issues in the grave where our heroes are buried I lost two brothers in that struggle One fell charging a Federal battery almost in sight of where I now stand I revere their memory, and shall teach my children to venerate their memory and the memory of all the heroes My opponent says we want a Senator who represents the sentiments of Georgia There is a sentiment in Georgia I do not represent. It is the sentiment of that aristocratic class which lived high and taught their children to love to rule But I believe I represent the laboring classes of the State I have had a hard life I have had to work my way up and am a little too much worn for a man under 60 I am arraigned as a secessionist Who was the most brilliant and powerful secessionist in the South? Gen Toombs We got into it, but after it was over I thought we had better build up the waste places and do the best we could

If I go back to the Senate, I shall not expect to sit and fold my arms and represent the sentimentality of the State. [Cheers] I shall try to go to work and help my people in any way that I can I shall do all that I can to encourage our agricultural resources I shall endeavor to aid in the development of our mineral resources I shall endeavor to encourage manufactures and to maintain the proper balance between manufactures and agriculture Cotton manufacturing will be one of the grand industries of the future We are better prepared for this work than the North. We have advantages of climate coal as cheap, labor cheaper and the material at our very doors I have the educational question very much at heart Disguise it as you may, the New England States with their schools and universities have dictated laws to this continent They have sent New England ideas all over the West and they dominate there Look at Prussia, that little Empire over which Napoleon rushed and almost obliterated Hardly a generation passed before it had in turn humbled France and taken the power from its Empire The bright eyed boys in your mountains and wire grass may represent you nobly before the world if you educate them We must also educate the colored race and they ought to be educated for the benefit of the Union (Applause) I would devote the proceeds of the public lands to this purpose on a basis of illiteracy The colored people are citizens and we must do them justice Let us give them every legal right Social rights will take care of themselves They are the best laborers you will ever have in your cotton fields

The speaker then showed the great good which could be done by making the rivers of Georgia navigable and improving the harbors He showed the folly of General Toombs's idea of never asking for an appropriation This idea gave the North wealth and the South the honors before the war Which proved the more valuable? We must adopt some new notions The world moves and I am in favor of moving with it (Cheers) Gov Brown then alluded to the charge that he gave incendiary advice to the negroes in 1868 and said that he poured oil on the troubled waters at the risk of his own life I believe the warning I gave them saved great trouble

POLITICAL NOTES

If "the South" proposes to remain solid until "the North" acquiesces in the overthrow of the civil and political rights of those whom it freed, "the South will remain solid for a long time —Harper's Weekly

A letter from Indiana indicates that Ben Harrison is the strongest candidate for the Senate

The Democrats are discovering that Garfield is a pretty good fellow, after all

Mr William L Chandler writes a letter in which he takes the view of most common-sense persons that a subscription for the benefit of General Grant would be a humiliation to him and urges the renewal of a proposition made once before—that General Grant shall be placed upon the retired Army list with the rank of General and an annual pay of $17 000 —Tribune

John W Forney has ordered his Thanksgiving dinner — crow with chokeberry sauce—Cleveland Herald (Rep)

If Sickles, Forney Butler, Butterfield and other renegade Republicans will go off in a corner somewhere and form a new party of their own it will be a great relief to the Republican All danger of their coming back will then be dispelled —Tribune

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

THE ANTHEM HARP is the latest music book, by W O Perkins, for chorus or quartet choirs The Harp has 248 pages, and in the neighborhood of a hundred pieces Not far from a quarter of these are Anthems of some length for special occasions, and there are about an equal number of "three page Anthems," "two page Anthems," and of short Sentences, Motets and Chants, which answer a good purpose when the time is brief One is pleased to see old "Jerusalem" revived from its long sleep, and provided with first-rate new music "Savior, breathe an evening blessing, and a few other choice hymns, are preserved, but most of the words, as they always must be are from the Scriptures

THE INTERNATIONAL REVIEW for November spreads before its readers a tempting display of good things The number opens with an exceedingly well written and considered article entitled 'West Point and the Colored Cadets, in which Professor George L Andrews, of West Point, reviews the case of the Cadet Whittaker, which has been so amply commented upon by the newspaper press He also gives much interesting and valuable information relative to the colored cadets who have at different times been at West Point not immediately connected with the Whittaker case, but throwing much light upon it This is followed by other elaborate articles of great ability Mr Charles S Baker writes upon 'The State and the Railroads' —an article which will be read with great interest, both by railroad men and all persons interested in them, Mr Robert P Porter, who is at the head of the department of public debts in the Census Bureau, contributes an article of great value on 'State Debts and Repudiation

We have received a volume entitled 'THE CREDIT MOBILIER OF AMERICA' giving its origin and history, its work of constructing the Union Pacific Railroad and the relation of members of Congress therewith By J B Crawford Published by C W Calkins & Co, Boston. Although much talked about, no subject is more misunderstood by the public, and the author presents this book, entertaining the hope that it may clear away much of the misunderstanding that has always existed regarding the object and accomplishments of the Credit Mobilier

TEAS.

We have the largest and best assortment to be found in the city, selected with the utmost care. We guarantee to sell you a genuine 60-cent FORMOSA, OOLONG or JAPAN TEA, for 50 CENTS PER LB

COFFEE.

ON THIS ARTICLE WE CLAIM TO EXCEL. We spare no pains in the selection of Coffees, and always buy the best. We roast our Coffee ourselves, two or three times a week; consequently we KNOW it is FRESH and the BEST.

SPICES.

This is another article that we have taken great pains to give our customers the best of. We grind every pound we sell at our own Mill, and not only warrant it STRICTLY pure, but ground from the very best selected and sifted spice, and sell as low as other dealers sell inferior goods.

Now please give us a trial and be convinced that we CAN AND DO SELL BETTER GOODS AT LESS PRICES than other dealers or we shall not expect to sell you.

MAINE NEWS.

Suicide of the Wife of County Attorney Staples of Knox.

ROCKLAND, Nov. 19. The wife of County Attorney Staples was drowned near her residence at Washington Mills, last night. She left her house early in the evening, as was supposed, to go to a neighbors, but not returning, enquiry was made and not having been seen, search was made through the night without avail, but this morning her body was found in the stream not far from her house. It is supposed to be suicide, though possibly she may have been forced over the bank wall into the water by the sudden squall which came up after she had left the house. Mrs. Staples was a very estimable lady.

MASSACHUSETTS.

The Ladies' Deposit Humbug.

BOSTON, Nov. 19. At the first meeting of the "Ladies' Deposit," to-day, a partial list of claims amounting to $151,000, was presented, and Augustus Russ was appointed assignee by Judge McKim.

ILLINOIS.

Two Heavy Failures.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19. The Chicago grain Provision Exchange has failed; liabilities about $30,000. This is a different concern from the Chicago Public Produce Exchange.

J. and W. Hassick, grain dealers of Odell, Ill., have failed for from $250,000 to $300,000, the largest failure ever known in Livingstone county.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Death of a Public Man.

PORTSMOUTH, Nov. 19. Ex-Mayor Frank W. Miller, died this morning aged 51. He was formerly connected with the Boston Globe and Transcript, Portsmouth Journal and Newburyport Herald, and was also agent for the Associated Press, besides other honorable positions in this city and State.

Appointment of Light Keeper.

PORTSMOUTH, Nov. 18. John Lewis of Kittery, is appointed assistant light-keeper at Whale's Back.

INTERNATIONAL BOAT RACE.

Exciting Contest.

LONDON, Nov. 19. The first heat was won by Ross, beating Hosmer by a length, with Riely and Nicholson following. The race was a fine one though the water was rough.

The second heat was won by Laycock, of Sydney, with Warren Smith, of Halifax, second, Trickett, of Sidney, third, and Hawdon, of Delaval, fourth. Laycock rowed in splendid form.

As the result of this day's contest Ross, Laycock, Hosmer and Smith will compete to-morrow over the Thames' course from Putney aqueduct to "The Ship" at Mortlake, four and one-fourth miles, for the American prizes.

Ross is still the favorite in the betting on the international regatta at 6 to 4.

The time of the second heat was 17 minutes and 23 seconds.

LONDON, Nov. 19. The latest betting on the international regatta is five to four on Ross, and six to four against Laycock.

WASHINGTON.

Immigration from China.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. A cablegram has been received at the Department of State announcing that a treaty on the subject of immigration has been concluded between the United States Commissioner and the government of China. The department declines at present to furnish any particulars, but says the treaty is considered satisfactory.

No Signal Officer Yet.

In a cabinet meeting to-day the appointment of a chief signal officer was not referred to. The Secretary of War pronounced the statement to the effect that it had been decided to appoint Miles chief signal officer premature.

Hanging of Two Negroes.

Two negroes, Joseph Neverson, alias "Babe Bedford," and Edward Queenan, convicted of the murder of George Phillip Hirth, were hanged to-day.

Amount of Exports.

The Chief of the Bureau of Statistics reports the total value of exports of domestic provisions and tallow from the United States during October, 1880, were $11,463,-[illegible], and during October, 1879, $7,932,718; for ten months ended October 31st, 1880, $110,134,480, and the same period in 1879, $9[illegible]5,293.

The Towpath Club is in receipt of a letter from Gen. Garfield, acknowledging the receipt of the club's tender of a reception on his arrival in this city, and expressing thanks for the courtesy. Gen. Garfield says he will arrive some day during next week.

CONNECTICUT.

The Captain of the Steamer Stonington held for Manslaughter.

NORWICH, Nov. 19. Capt. Nye of the steamer Stonington, which collided with the Narragansett, was before the United States Commissioner, charged with violating the pilot rules, and with manslaughter. Held in $1000 on the latter and $200 on the former charge, for trial at the December term of the United States Court, Hartford.

MISSOURI.

Destruction of Large Smelting Works.

CHITTENHAM, Nov. 19. The St. Louis refinery and smelting works were destroyed by fire this morning; loss $125,000; insured for $35,000. John Williams, the night engineer, was burned to a crisp. One hundred men are thrown out of employment.

BOOT AND SHOE MANUFACTURERS

In Convention.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19. At the morning session of the boot and shoe manufacturers of the United States, the following was adopted:

Resolved, That we hereby empower the executive committee to negotiate with all royalty sewing machine companies, if in their judgment satisfactory terms can be made with said owners of royalty paying machines, to have the power to accept the same.

New York City was fixed upon as the place for the next annual meeting. In the afternoon the session of the convention adjourned sine die.

NEW YORK CITY.

Unveiling the Hamilton Statue.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. At the unveiling of the Hamilton statue in Central Park to-morrow addresses are expected from Secretary Evarts, Hon. Benj. H. Brewster, ex-Attorney General of Pennsylvania, Alexander Hamilton Bullock, ex-Governor of Massachusetts, and Hon. Chauncey M. Depew.

Missing Bonds Returned

The six one thousand dollar bonds of the Atlantic & Pacific Railroad, lost by F. W. Pierce a few days ago, have been returned to him by detectives.

ALABAMA.

Explosion of a Boiler.

ST. EVANSON, Nov. 19. O'Neil's saw and grist mill was totally destroyed by the bursting of a boiler. Four men were killed and four badly injured. Explosion caused by carelessness of a negro engineer.

SAN FRANCISCO.

Charges Against Mayor Kalloch.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19. The Grand Jury presented the accusation against Mayor Kalloch, charging him with having procured the appointment of W. P. Hughey to a position in office of register of votes and then demanding from him a portion of his salary, which was paid. The jury also presented accusation charging the Mayor, Auditor and City Attorney with having had work done on the new City Hall, without advertising for bids.

INDIANA.

Democratic Meeting and Plans.

FORT WAYNE, Nov. 19. At a meeting of the Democratic editors of Northern Indiana, they unanimously agreed upon the following points, to be at once pressed upon the attention of the American people: Change the Constitution of the United States, providing for the election of President and Vice President by popular vote; the election of U. S. Senators by the people, and a judicious revision of the present tariff in the interests of the producing and industrial classes. Opposition to the introduction of cheap mongolian labor; appropriate legislation by Congress for taxation of greenbacks; opposition to the controlling of elections by the dependents of the national administration; against coercive corporation in interfering with the elective franchise of employees; securing the holding of elections in all the States on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November; protest against any tinkering with the finances and condemn the presumptuous proposition of Secretary Sherman; demand that Congress institute a thorough and searching investigation of charges of Republican fraud in New York in the recent election.

POLITICAL.

Official Vote of Oregon.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19. The official vote of Oregon gives Garfield 763 majority.

Official Vote of Massachusetts.

BOSTON, Nov. 19. Official Massachusetts vote: Garfield 165,198, Hancock 111,960, Weaver 4,548, Dow 682.

LOSS OF A BRITISH STEAMER.

Twenty-three Persons Drowned.

LONDON, Nov. 19. The British steamer Mildred, which sailed from New York September 28, for Marseilles, foundered in the Atlantic, and twenty-three persons were drowned.

CALIFORNIA.

Town of Jamison in Ashes.

TRUCKEE, Nov. 19. The town of Jamison, Plums county, was burned this morning. It is supposed to have been an incendiary fire. The whole town is in ashes. About 20 houses, including a fine hotel, three stores, several saloons and other business places, were destroyed.

CONDENSED DESPATCHES.

The pay car on the Hocking Valley railroad near Lancaster, O., yesterday, collided with a train on the Cincinnati & Muskingham Valley railroad, wrecking both trains badly and fatally injuring an engineer. No one else was seriously injured.

The yellow fever suddenly appeared at Vera Cruz, and raged with violence during October, but is now slowly diminishing.

The loss by the fire at Chittenden, Mo., is now estimated at $60,000 to $75,000; insurance, $48,700.

Gov. Williams of Indiana is dangerously ill.

FOREIGN NEWS.

LONDON, Nov. 19. The Daily Telegraph says that the Cabinet must await the report of the Irish Land Commission before any land reform bill can be announced or any rigorous measures be taken.

It is stated that Goshen, British Ambassador to Turkey, will return to London immediately after the surrender of Dulcigno, and that Lord Dufferin or Sir Austin Laird will probably succeed him. Risa Pasha is summoned to Constantinople.

MOENS, Belgium, Nov. 19. An explosion of fire-damp occurred in a coal pit near here to-day. Twenty-seven men were in the pit, of whom fifteen have been secured, more or less injured. It is feared that the men still in the pit are dead.

VIENNA, Nov. 19. Count Karoly, who killed count Zich in a duel, is sentenced to three months imprisonment, and the seconds in the duel to three weeks' imprisonment.

The steamer Brazilian, at Liverpool 18th, from Boston, lost 40 cattle and 30 pigs on the passage.

LONDON, Nov. 19. Both Trickett and Hanlan deny the report that $1000 was offered the latter, in the former's interest, to lose the recent race.

The Dublin News says the Cabinet did not come to any decision in regard to the meeting of Parliament.

DUBLIN, Nov. 19. Intimidation is on the march to Dublin itself, as there have been some instances of threatening letters to the sons in Dublin county. The anti-land league movement is spreading in north Ireland.

THE WEATHER.

IDLE EXPERIMENTS.

When a man is well and sound he can afford to be indifferent to the character of all the medicine in the world. But when disease is fairly eating him up, he must do something at once and do it intelligently. Therefore do not dose yourself with a hundred things in the hope that some of them may hit the mark, but try Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" which hits it every time. For kidney and liver troubles, piles and constipation, it is just what you want. Druggists have it, or mail one dollar to the doctor at Rondout, N. Y.

LIEBIG CO'S COCA BEEF TONIC.

"My patients derive marked and decided benefit from it," says Prof. J. M. CARNOCHAN, M.D., Prof. Surgery, New York Medical College.

For bad taste in the mouth, bad breath, heartburn, pains in the stomach and bowels, indigestion, constipation, flatulency, it is endorsed by leading physicians.

For billiousness, malaria, dyspepsia and debility it is highly endorsed by the most eminent physicians. TTS&w 1w

There will be a meeting of the Board of Managers of the Home for Aged Women next Monday afternoon at half-past two o'clock, at the Home, on State street.

Rev. E. W. Preble, of this city, will preach in the Universalist church, Orono, to-morrow afternoon at half-past two. Sabbath school at close of the service.

The next session of Penobscot District Lodge, I. O. G. T., will be held with Anchor Lodge, East Corinth, December tenth. T. R. Simonton, G. W. C. T., will be present.

Mr. Fred M. Gardner of Colby University will supply the Columbia street Baptist church to-morrow forenoon. In the evening there will be a Sunday School concert—subject, "The life of Joseph."

The chorus paid marked attention to the baton of the leader; the crescendo and diminuendo were well preserved throughout.—Commercial.

"We should smile!"

The steamer Pioneer, of Rockland, has chartered to bring the "Buffalo Bill" theatrical company to this city Sunday, there being no regular boat up the river after their appearance at Rockland till Tuesday morning.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union will hold a temperance meeting tomorrow evening with the Union street Methodist church, to which all interested in the subject, are invited. The meeting opens at seven o'clock with a praise service.

Simmons' monument of the late Senator Morton, of Indiana, will be one of the finest monumental sculptures in this country. The design has just been submitted to the committee and accepted, and the Maine sculptor will soon begin the execution of the great work in marble at his Roman studio. It will cost $20,000.

IMPORTANT HEARING. An important reference case was heard by Supreme Justices Hon. Wm. Wirt Virgin of Portland, and Hon. John A. Peters of this city, in the County Commissioners' room at the Court House in Augusta, Thursday. The dispute to be adjusted was between Elias Milliken of Augusta and a Mr. Hamlen of Portland, in reference to a cargo of lumber valued at $3,000. Hon. S. C. Strout of Portland appeared for Mr. Milliken and Wm. L. Putnam Esq. of Portland for Mr. Hamlin.

THANKSGIVING CONTRIBUTIONS. Our churches are in the habit of taking up collections for the aid of their sick and needy members on the Sabbath preceding Thanksgiving Day. In some of the churches the gifts are not confined to presents for the annual festival only, but as a reserved charity fund, to be used as occasion may require during the winter and the coming year. There are cases of sickness and destitution occurring at all seasons of the year, where a small amount of money carries great comfort and relief. Let us all contribute liberally, and thus fulfill the great commandment. "Love Thy neighbor as thyself."

THE NEWBURGH TRAGEDY. As some fears have been manifested that our item concerning the recent post-mortem examination of the remains of young Newcomb, at Newburgh, might be misinterpreted, we will state that it was really a part of the inquest. When the shooting first occurred Coroner Wilson impaneled a jury, and after taking all the evidence obtainable at the time, the hearing was adjourned for two weeks in order to await developments; and this examination, which disposed of all suspicions of murder was made in the meantime. The examination was made by two physicians, one of whom officiated on the first day of the inquest, while the other served on the jury.

BOWDOIN COLLEGE. Work on Memorial Hall has not been commenced as yet. At a recent inspection by architects, it was found that the construction of the building as far as it has been carried is very weak and deficient. This will entail the necessity of constructing an inner wall of brick throughout; and will increase the amount set for finishing the building by $4,000, or even $5,000. Mrs. Stone, however, has kindly responded to this additional want, and bids the committee to go on with their work. It is reported that the money necessary for the building of a new gymnasium will be forthcoming when required. It is proposed to erect a building at a cost of ten or twelve thousand dollars, and supply it with all the modern improvements and conveniences.

ASTRONOMICAL. We are approaching a period of great magnetic and meteorological perturbations over the entire globe. Winnecke's comet, not far behind Swift's recently discovered comet, makes its perihelion passage Dec. 4th, and is likely to be visible for some weeks afterward. Faye's comet will be at perihelion Jan. 22d, 1881, followed in November by Encke's and before it is due a lookout will be kept for the comet of 1812. Four eclipses, two of the sun and two of the moon (one a total eclipse), occur in 1881, while in the same year, as ringed Saturn hastens toward the sun, his mysterious belts will offer astronomers increasing opportunity to study their texture. These and similar phenomena so soon to take place, will open the way to test the theories which make our atmospheric envelope a delicate sensorium, promptly responding to every wave of physical energy that beats on it from stellar space. If these celestial vagaries result in a continuation of this fine autumn weather, nobody will get nervous about the situation.

REFRIGERATORS ON SHIPBOARD. Six steamers, three in the Beaver and three in the Dominion line, are to have refrigerators for the shipment of fresh beef. The principle upon which these machines work is different from most of their kind. The beef is put into compartments between which are iron-ice tanks. These are filled with ice in small pieces mixed with salt, only a small amount of ice being used at a time. A quantity of ice is stored in another part of the steamer, and a man is employed whose sole business it is to tend the ice tanks. The ventilation is properly arranged so as to prevent the meat from being tainted by a supply of foul air. The temperature around the meat is kept evenly just above the freezing point. It is claimed that by this process the beef will arrive in Liverpool in a perfect state of preservation some twelve or fifteen days after it is slaughtered. It is then just ready for use, having been kept long enough to make it tender and palatable. The meat arrives at Portland from Chicago in refrigerator cars and is immediately housed in the refrigerator on board the steamer. This will do away with the shipping of live cattle to any great extent.

AMUSEMENTS.

Buffalo Bill.

The Buffalo Bill Combination will appear Monday evening to probably the largest house of the season. Seats are selling rapidly at Bugbee's, and those who intend going will do well to secure their places without delay. We take the following from a lengthy notice in the Portland Press of the 18th:

"At 7.30 p. m., the doors of the theatre were besieged. At 8 p. m., the gallery was crowded to repletion and no more money taken at the gallery window. A few moments later down stairs the house was crowded, and standing room sought for. There were over twelve hundred people in the house and its capacity fully tested. Mr. Cody, who prides himself in his accepted name of Buffalo Bill, assumed the chief character in the "Prairie Waif" with a full recognition of its stage demands. The story of the play is especially sympathetic and picturesque, and the scenes are surrounded by an atmosphere of romance that adds to its effectiveness; while Mr. Cody does not fail to avail himself of the use of accomplishments as a rifle shot, which imparts an additional interest to the stirring incidents of the representation. The lighter portions of the performance are made especially amusing by the comic humor of Mr. Allstadt and Miss Connie Thompson, the latter of whom adds several comic songs to her repertoire, and sings them with humor and spirit."

PENOBSCOT MUSICAL ASSOCIATION.

Thirty-third Annual Session.

FOURTH DAY.

The forenoon session to 10 o'clock was occupied in practice and instruction in the various styles of music, and the remainder of the time to the rehearsal of the Oratorio.

At the afternoon session F. A. Bragdon, Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, reported the following, which were adopted:

With grateful hearts we have gathered for our thirty-first annual meeting. God in his providence has graciously preserved us and blessed us. A generation has passed away since the Penobscot Musical Association was organized, and, although most of the original members have gone to the spirit land, a few of them still remain with us.

We welcome all to this annual feast, and rejoice to know that your interest in the Association is not abating.

Each year we have to record the death of members. During the past year several members have been removed. Moody T. Stickney died in Bangor April 12, 1880, aged 59 years. He joined the Association in 1865, and showed much interest in our annual gatherings. He was a brother of Thomas G. Stickney, who has long been a member of our board of trustees.

Resolved, That in his death we have lost a useful member whose presence and counsel will be sadly missed.

Resolved, That this resolution be entered upon the records of the Association and that a copy of the same be sent to the family of the deceased.

We also notice the death of Richard M. Dolliver, at Kenduskeag, in July, 1880, aged 60 years. He was an early member of the Association. The older members can speak of his interest in and zeal for the cause.

Mr. Samuel Jewett, of Bangor, died August 24, 1880, aged 70 years; and Mrs. Addie Beath, of Kenduskeag, May 24, 1880, aged 28. Mrs. Beath was the daughter of O. R. Barrows, a worthy member and officer of this Association. We record their death with sorrow.

Resolved, That we hereby return thanks to Mr. S. B. Whitney, of Boston, for his invaluable services as conductor during the present session. We have enjoyed his presence and will endeavor to profit by his instruction.

Resolved, That we are grateful to Mr. F. S. Davenport for the timely aid he has rendered at the piano.

Resolved, That our thanks are hereby given to Mr. Harry G. Snow, Mr. H. W. Fisher and Mr. James A. Chapman, of Boston, to Miss Laura M. Cook, Mrs. J. A. Crowell, Mr. E. E. Holden and Mr. Geo. T. Moody, of Bangor; Mrs. Robbins, of Newport, Mrs. Wasgatt and Miss Chapman and Mrs. W. H. Gardiner, of Bangor, and other ladies and gentlemen who have aided at concerts and matinees.

Resolved, That we give our thanks to Andrews' Orchestra for the valuable service it has rendered us. Special thanks to Mr. Delaney for his cornet solo, and to Mr. Van Santvoord for his flute solo.

Resolved, That we return thanks to the Bangor press for their kindly notice of our matinees and concerts, to the Maine Central, European and North American, Bucksport, and Piscataquis railroads, and to the Sanford Steamboat line for free return tickets.

These resolutions were adopted, after remarks by Mr. Patten. And in memory of those who have deceased, a hymn was sung by the class.

A large audience attended the second matinee, at which the following programme was presented: Poet and Peasant, Andrews' Orchestra; Song, "When we Parted," Mr. J. H. Chapman; Flute Solo, "Le Babieland," Mr. G. B. Van Santvoord—being called out again he gave a polka; Song, "The Flower Girl," Miss Goff, of Dexter; Gebaubet Polka, Andrews' Orchestra; Song, "Yeoman's Wedding Song," Mr. H. W. Fisher, of Boston; Song, "Waiting by the Brookside," Mrs. Robbins, of Newport; Italian Song, "Canto D'Amour," Mrs. W. H. Gardner, with Flute Obligarto by Mr. Van Santvoord.

The several piano accompaniments were by Mr. Whitney, Mr. Davenport, Mr. Costin, Mrs. Davenport, and Miss Brown.

MOSES IN EGYPT.

The four days' exercises closed last evening with the presentation of Rossini's grand and inspiring Oratorio, "Moses in Egypt." This piece is calculated to stir the best impulses of the nature, its noble measures leading the mind a willing worshipper at the shrine of music, having for its theme some of the noted central figures of Biblical history. The leading character, that of the Queen of Egypt, was taken by Miss L. M. Cook, and that of Esther, a Hebrew Maiden, by Mrs. J. A. Crowell. It would seem superfluous to even allude to the musical accomplishments of these ladies in Bangor, where they have won many triumphs and achieved distinction in that direction. The full development of their musical culture and talent seemed to have waited for the opportunities of last evening. They each received gifts of handsome bouquets. The tenor parts of Osiris and Aaron were taken by Harry G. Snow, of Boston, and E. E. Holden, of Bangor. These gentlemen have flexible, sweet and well trained voices, reaching with ease the highest notes. Moses and Pharaoh were represented in the piece by H. W. Fisher, of Boston, and G. T. Moody of Bangor, whose deep and mellow base was displayed to excellent advantage in their important parts. The great chorus, and indeed the able performance, was led by Prof. Whitney. The fine music of Andrews' Orchestra which accompanied the Oratorio, showed the result of patient practice and wonderful skill. Mr. F. S. Davenport presided with grace and skill at the piano. The audience, which was large and cultured, was not demonstrative, but in a quiet way manifested their keen enjoyment of this rare treat.

FROM DEXTER.

A Railroad Extension to Piscataquis Indicated—About the Forthcoming State Valuation—Various Matters.

There really seems to be a prospect of a railroad communication between Dexter and Dover. A civil engineer in the employ of the Maine Central R. R. Company came to Dexter several days ago, and is understood to have been taking steps preparatory to the arrival of surveyors next week. The movements now being made seem all voluntary on the part of the Maine Central people, not actively urged on, as heretofore by parties in Piscataquis county. Of course there are a good many rumors afloat as to what is to be done—and among other theories is the one that the Piscataquis road is to be bought and the rails taken up below Milo; others say that the M. C. company is going to get hold not only of the Piscataquis road, but the E. & N. A. as well. Of course, I only write down these rumors for what they are worth; but it is a fact that steps are being taking, which indicate a possible and some say probable extension of the rail track from Dexter to some point in Piscataquis county. Further developments will be reported in due time.

ABOUT THE NEW STATE VALUATION.

The desire to reduce the town valuation with reference to the new basis for assessing State tax, is by no means confined to Dexter. Mr. Eldridge, selectman of this town, says that the representatives of all the towns who go before the valuation committee at Augusta, represent their various burghs as oppressed with taxation—all want a reduction. It is the intention of the commissioners to make the State valuation with no special reference to the valuations for the past ten years, but in accordance with the present existing state of things, and it is their object to make the same, as nearly equitable as is possible. Of course there will be a good deal of growling and grumbling on the part of some, and this is expected.

VARIOUS MATTERS.

The Oriental Dramatic Company announce their intention of giving an entertainment at Town Hall sometime in December.

On the 29th inst., Rev. Jason Mariner will deliver a lecture in the F. W. B. church, the subject of which will be: "Sight seeing in Europe." Mr. M. speaks from personal observation, having last year made an extended visit to the various points of which he speaks. He will doubtless be listened to by a large audience.

Some time in the early part of next month, Miss Mabel Hill, daughter of F. W. Hill, Esq., of Exeter, will deliver her lecture upon London, at Town Hall. She was abroad last year, and will illustrate her description of what she saw in the great city by use of a stereoptican. Miss Hill is a very accomplished young lady, and reported to be an easy, agreeable speaker. She delivers her lecture in Dexter for the benefit of the "Church of the Messiah" (Episcopal) in this town. She has already spoken a number of times in different places, for the benefit of the Episcopal church in her own town.

A Thanksgiving dance is announced in the Gazette for one of the suburban hamlets in Dexter. The members of the affair significantly remark that "if there is any circus in connection it will be out of doors."

The ladies of the Reformers' Aid Society have many very pleasant ways. One of the same is to arrange a really meritorious entertainment at their clubroom, charge five cents admission and then serve a supper to all hands without money and without price.

Company C, M. V. M., were out in uniform Thursday afternoon. The members have to put in a half day's drill once a month, or "show cause," etc. This company gives considerable attention to target-shooting, and comprises some very good marksmen. Four of them attended the last State shoot, and everyone brought back a prize. They contemplate having a shoot on their own book sometime in the early future; a badge, worth not far from $25 is to be purchased and owned by the company, to be held by the member making the best score, until some other member gets a better one. It is intended to hold company shoots once every three months.

The turn-table at the station here, has lately been undergoing some repairs.

The statement was made in my last letter that Mr. Roncisco Safford would leave for Cuba next week. The Gazette says he has gone. I met the gentleman on the street last night and inquired of him in propria persona whether he was here or on the road to the West Indies. He seemed to think he was still in Dexter, with the intention of getting away next Tuesday. He will sail from New York on Thursday, in company with his brother, Gancelo.

Mr. Harry Bassett returned from the Adirondack region in New York, Thursday morning. He comes home on a brief visit, and after eating the Thanksgiving turkey beneath the paternal roof, he will return. He is a graduate of Eastman's Business College, at Philadelphia, and is now bookkeeper for Mr. Chas. O. Shaw, son of Hon. Chas. Shaw, of this town, who is running the tannery owned by his father at Johnsburgh, Warren County, N. Y. The concern is twelve miles from the railroad that runs between Saratoga and North Creek, and now employs thirty-five men. Next year they expect to tan five hundred tons of leather. The amount of work done has been largely increased since young Shaw went out there, about a year ago. He is not yet twenty-one years old, but in business push seems to be a veritable chip of the old block. Mr. Shaw has brought up his boys to work, so they know when a job is well done; and if it is not well done, they know where in the trouble lies. His oldest son, Greenville J., is in business in Hartland, and a wealthy man; his second, Willis I., is at New Limerick, Aroostook County, where he has the management of an extensive establishment.

It seems rather early yet to begin to stock up for the holidays, and yet one of the principal dealers in this class of merchandise here, has just returned from the markets whither he has been to purchase goods. He tells me that the trade is already quite brisk, and that the jobbers have a good many orders upon their books.

The cattle-buyers returning from the Brighton and Watertown markets, report that in the past week or so the prices have declined fully fifteen per cent. Farmers have generally got through with their fall work for oxen, and having in many instances sold their hay short, are forced to sell for what they can get.

A number of cases of diphtheria are reported in this vicinity, and nervous parents are considerably exercised in their minds thereat. This town was terribly scourged by this terrible disease a few years ago.

The trenching for the iron pipe connecting the new reservoir with the Dexter mills, is about complete, and the pipe is being laid down. Altogether, it has been quite an extensive job.

A gentleman from Kansas sold twelve hundred pounds of wool to Amos Abbott & Co., the other day. About ten thousand pounds of the lot were sheared from his own sheep. One of the fleeces weighed sixteen pounds.

Considerable hemlock bark is brought to Dexter by cars every year, to be used at Shaw's tannery. The article is now getting to be quite scarce in this immediate vicinity.

We are indebted to Major E. E. Small, the popular insurance agent, for a neat and convenient calendar for 1881.

A WORLD OF GOOD.

One of the most popular medicines now before the American public, is Hop Bitters. You see it everywhere. People take it with good effect. It builds them up. It is not as pleasant to the taste as some other Bitters as it is not a whiskey drink. It is more like the old fashioned boneset tea that has done a world of good. If you don't feel just right try Hop Bitters.—Nunda News.

"HIS LAST DOSE."

Said a sufferer from kidney troubles when asked to try Kidney-Wort: "I'll try it but it will be my last dose." The man got well and is now recommending the remedy to all.

When derangement of the stomach acts upon the kidneys and liver bringing disease and pain, Kidney-Wort is the true remedy. It removes the cause and cures the disease. Liquid (very concentrated) or dry act equally efficiently.—Am. Cultivator. nov16 d&wlw

HUMBUGGED AGAIN.

I saw so much said about the merits of Hop Bitters, and my wife who was always doctoring, and never well, teased me so urgently to get her some, I concluded to be humbugged again; and I am glad I did, for in less than two months use of the Bitters my wife was cured and she has remained so for eighteen months since. I like such humbugging.—H. T., St. Paul.—Pioneer Press.

This Dr. Kennedy accomplishes by means of his new medicine called "Favorite Remedy"—the pleasant and popular title of a preparation which cleanses and sweetens the river of life within our veins, as an influx of oxygen does vitiated air. PLAIN LANGUAGE FROM UNCLE SAM.

Which is why I remark —
And my language is plain —
That for ways that are dark
And for tricks that are vain,
The Morey Chinee is peculiar
Which the same I would rise to explain.

Barnum was his name
And I scorning a [illegible]
I'll not say what the same
Might imply— (would be cruel
But it was [illegible] it was wicked and Truth like,
As I frequent remarked to Marsh Jewell

I was October [illegible] he'd heard
From the [illegible] in the West,
Which it might be inferred
To his temper gave zest
But he placed that day upon Garfield
And me in a way I detest

When we had a campaign
And Barnum took a hand,
It was Fair Play [illegible]
He did not understand
But he smiled as he bossed his Committee
With a smile that was Truth like and bland

But to tell of each wire
He pulled [illegible] unable,
And it kindles my ire
To think of his stable,
Which was crammed full of mules in a barn,
And each wore a bribery label

But the devil [illegible]
[illegible] dear!
And the lies that [illegible]
Were quite frightful to bear
Till at last he put down a forged letter
[illegible] James wrote it clear

Then [illegible] looked
And he gazed upon me,
[illegible] sigh
[illegible]
We are swindled by Chinese cheap forging —
And we went for that Morey Chinee

In the scene that ensued
All the voters came forth
And on Barnum's [illegible] brood
The fair minded North
[illegible]
For O they were terribly wroth

In his ears, which were long,
They inserted [illegible]
And [illegible] wrong
[illegible]
[illegible]
It's Truth [illegible] Morey Chinee

BETWEEN THE LIGHTS

A tall blue eyed girl with loose brown curls flowing from her face, like an aureole of amber brightness and a slender brow white and smooth as mother of pearl— that was Valentine Bruce as she sat on the open French window dreamily watching the sunset flame melt into open billows of light

And Col Mordaunt smoked his despairing cigar in the fragrant shadows of the shrubbery and wondered what fortunate mortal might be fitted to buy Valentine's wedding ring and pay her millinery bills and be her humble slave and servitor through life

Col Mordaunt cast his cigar among the [illegible] that skirted the lawn, and began to select a cluster of exquisite moss roses [illegible] of the thorns that pierced his unaccustomed finger

"She likes flowers" he soliloquized, "and moss roses are certainly the prettiest flowers that grow I will win a smile from those sweet velvet lips of hers"

He twisted a blade of plant grass around the mossy stems in place of a ribbon and sauntered carelessly up the gravel walk

All at a sudden he stopped

Frank Aldrich's voice he exclaimed biting his lips with vexation as a merry peal of laughter floated through the purpling twilight from the opening meadows beyond

What brings the puppy here now of all times and seasons in the world

"Hallo Jack" said Aldrich "been sentimentalizing on the dew The ladies were just fretting over the chances of your taking cold"

Mordaunt's face brightened up—then Valentine did think of him sometimes

That is, pursued the relentless Aldrich, "poor thoughtful sister Katy said she was afraid you would have a cold, and Miss Bruce said nothing"

Mordaunt's countenance elongated again But he stepped forward and laid the knot of moss roses on the folds of Valentine's white muslin dress, with a few murmured words that nobody could understand

"Flowers yet" said Jack surreptitiously "upon my word Jack is getting prodigal"

Valentine looked carelessly down at the cluster of pink buds and then deliberately took them up and tossed them out upon the lawn

"Spoil it you please," said Frank, composedly while Mordaunt grew scarlet and bit his lips until the blood started

There was a worm—a horrid green worm—on one of the buds haughtily said Valentine, shaking off one or two crumbs on petals that still adhered to her dress I have a perfect horror of all such noxious insects

Do you hear that Jack appealed Aldrich idly turning round in his chair! "I'm so pity you were so unfortunate in the selection of your floral offering"

But Mordaunt had left the room Kate followed him the next minute

Dearest Jack are you vexed with Valentine and Frank They don't mean to annoy you I'm sure—"

"Not vexed dear" said Mordaunt, speaking slowly and sadly— only grieved I am sorry Miss Bruce finds me so disagreeable

He went up stairs, while Kate hesitated a moment below

He is better by himself" she said, mentally "Poor fellow he's dreadfully in love and I wish Valentine and Frank wouldn't tease him so

And she went down to gather honeysuckles for the parlor vases and muse on her brother's manifold grievances

"It's too bad so it is," she murmured, winking back to the bright drops that would suffuse her hazel brown orbs "I shall talk seriously to Valentine about it this very evening

Meanwhile Mordaunt stalked sulkily up stairs, into his sister's pretty little sitting room where the muslin curtains fluttered to and fro in the delicious night wind, and the sofa was drawn into a little recess beside a table all littered with books and magazines needle-cases and thimbles, and the indescribable debris which two girls invariably collect around themselves in the course of a June afternoon.

He threw himself recklessly down on the sofa and drew the soft folds of Kate's cashmere shawl over him, as if jealous lest the soft eyes of the watching stars, that were just beginning to gem the heavens should witness the struggle that convulsed the strong man's heart Not that his grief wrought itself into any external signs No there was neither groan nor motion more than there had been when he was wounded in battle and rode at the head of his regiment as bravely as though the red blood had not been dripping from his arm with slow and deadly drain. One might almost have fancied him asleep as he lay there white and silent, with the curtain sweeping down about his motionless head.

"Katy!"

Like the tremulous coo of the wood pigeon Valentine's voice murmured the two soft syllables with the coaxing accent of a child. And in the same instant she knelt down beside the sofa, her white dress sweeping over the crimson carpet and one arm thrown carelessly over the folds of the deceitful cashmere shawl. Mordaunt's first impulse was to spring up and declare his individuality, his second to lie still and let fate manage the matter to suit her own capricious self So he lay still accordingly, experiencing a very singular and not at all disagreeable sensation from the contact of the caressing arm

No doubt he was a treacherous, hypocritical wretch but fair lady or chivalrous gentleman, don't judge the poor fellow too harshly until you have been in precisely the same circumstances yourself. It is just possible—only possible, you know, that you might do the same thing

"Now you are angry with me, Kate," pleaded the soft voice, "because I threw those flowers away? And you won't speak to me, and I know I deserve it, darling"

There was a moment's silence, as if Miss Valentine had expected some sort of response to her pretty penitence But she didn't get any, so, after a brief pause she went on

"Indeed, Kate, I did not mean to grieve you, and I won't do it again I am sorry for my ridiculous freak Do you suppose he was very angry, Kate? Do you think I ought to ask his pardon? But then, you know, he didn't [illegible] me steal [illegible] the [illegible] when that odious Aldrich was gone and pick up the roses again

There were strong symptoms of coming tear —a sort of quivering sob in the voice

"You won't forgive me Kate Not if I tell you that I really do love your all stern brother? Only Kate, I was silly enough to want to tease him a little and test my power over his noble heart I love him Kate I may tell you of it, dear, without being bold or unwomanly because you know we have often talked about his lingering smile and O, Kate answer me—don't be so cold and cruel. Surely you can't be asleep?"

Where are your lips chere amie? she moved playfully I shall soon break the magic spell of silence that binds them You know you never could be vexed with me more than five minutes at a time Why where is your hair Where——

She sprang suddenly to her feet with a piercing scream—her wandering hand had touched the dark heavy mustache on which Colonel Mordaunt prided himself [illegible]

He strove to catch the hand to detain the frightened beauty long enough to plead his cause in earnest impassioned words, but in vain Feet seemed literally to lend her wings Away, like a frightened white dove she flew uttering wild hysteric screams, and fairly falling into the arms of the astonished Katy Mordaunt who was [illegible] coming in from the twilighted garden with both hands full of dewy branches of honeysuckle

Valentine she exclaimed dropping the piece blossoms, "why what is the matter? What can have startled you so dreadfully

"Oh Katy, Katy" sobbed Valentine clinging to her friend's shoulder with a nervous vehemence "there is a man in your room—a robber—lurking under your cashmere shawl on the sofa Oh, I am nearly frightened to death!"

Katy's serene brown eyes dilated a little then brightened into a smiling archness

"A robber" she repeated with provoking calmness "Nonsense Valentine, you are mistaken it was only Jack I saw him go [illegible] there half an hour ago [illegible] laugh rippled merrily at the mere fancy

Only Jack? In the midst of her terror this possibility had never once occurred to Valentine Bruce's mind Only Jack? The forty thousand thieves themselves would have faded into nothingness before the mere idea of Colonel Mordaunt having heard all the extravagant and unconscious admissions One moment Valentine felt as if every vein throughout her whole frame were filled with molten fire, then she grew white and cold as a marble statue Life and strength seemed ebbing away from her, and for the first time in her life Valentine Bruce fainted away

Katy Mordaunt quietly sprinkled scented water on the pallid forehead and began to unlace the white muslin dress As she did so, a faded bunch of flowers fell from Valentine's bosom and Katy smiled to herself as she recognized the moss buds that had been so haughtily thrown out on the lawn that very evening

"I'll keep them for Jack" she said. "Ah, Valentine you'll be my sister in law yet"

How slowly the blue eyed damsel stole into the breakfast room the next morning She would cheerfully have fasted all day long sooner than enter into the presence of the dreaded [illegible] but what was then to be done? The dreaded first interview must be got over sooner or later, so here are with downcast eyes lashes and her cheeks dyed as deep pink as the rose colored wrapper she had on No more haughty airs and graces no more cool composure She was at Mordaunt's mercy and she knew it Now would he take a cruel advantage of her helplessness Or would he ——

But just here her cogitation abruptly stopped

He was standing at the window looking upon the morning sunshine that bathed the short velvety grass before the house But he turned quickly as he entered, with a bright, welcome smile

"Valentine" he said, gently "was I dreaming last night, or did I hear you say that you loved me? Oh my darling tell me that it was no baseless dream"

She came shyly to his arm and nestled there half fluttering away [illegible] yet happy Still he was not content

"I want to hear it from your own lips yet" [illegible] ... shrunk away [illegible] but answer me"

"What shall I say" she murmured timidly raising her soft eyes to his face

"Tell me that you love me"

Sweeter than the fall of musical cascade through grove of tropic bloom softer than the trill of nightingales in Persian valley the three charmed words touched his ear and he knew that she was his—his forever

The courtship is drawing to a termination now The white satin dress is finished and the wedding cake iced to perfection and the white roses are in bloom that shall soon be woven in bridal bouquets, but Valentine is still extremely sensitive on the subject of cashmere shawls and twilight confidences And Katy Mordaunt—saucy little elf that she is—declares that Miss Valentine Bruce took advantage of its being leap year to confide her sentiments to her dark haired lover whom she delighted to torment
